BIG CHANGES TO OREGON'S PUBLIC EMPLOYEE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING ACT

The Oregon Legislature made significant changes to the law that governs collective bargaining for public employees -- including card-check recognition in place of secret ballot elections, additional mandatory subjects of bargaining for public safety employees, and a new class of workers covered by the law's binding interest arbitration provisions. At this Special Workshop, we'll discuss the impact of these changes on public employers in Oregon, and provide practical suggestions to help you prepare for their January 1, 2008 effective date.
